SEYMOUR, INDIANA, TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1916

PRICE TWO CENTS

G.O.P. CANDIDATES IN COUNTY FIELD

Republicans Meet at Brownstown to Make Arrangements for Coming Primaries.

THREE IN RACE FOR SHERIFF

A. H. Hall, of Indianapolis, Makes Stirring Speech Predicting Success for Party.

There was a good representation of Republicans of Jackson county at the meeting at Brownstown today. At 1 o'clock Judge John M. Lewis, district chairman, called the meeting to order and on motion of Judge O. H. Montgomery, Judge Lewis was made permanent chairman and Jay C. Smith was chosen secretary.

A committee was appointed representing the various townships to ascertain names of candidates for county offices. The committee is as follows:

Jackson township, C. D. Billings; Vernon township, William Goecker; Brownstown township, J. W. Cunningham; Driftwood township, M. A. Waskom; Carr township, J. V. Stapp; Washington township, August Bobb; Redding township, Allen Brown; Grassy Fork township, John V. Sturgeon; Hamilton township, R. D. Hays; Owen township, Josephus Goss.

This committee retired at once and during the time they were out Judge Montgomery spoke on the provisions of the new primary law, explaining many of the details and answering questions which were asked by various persons who were present at the meeting. A brief address was made by Dr. S. W. Shields of Brownstown.

Several other questions were asked and replied to concerning the provisions of the new law with the idea of clearing up misunderstandings.

The committee, which was appointed at the opening of the meeting returned and reported the following names of persons who are ready to run as candidates for the county offices:

Representative—F. B. Butler, Vernon township; C. H. Ahlbrand, Jackson township.

Auditor—Isaac Smith, Salt Creek township.

Treasurer—William Goecker, Vernon township.

Sheriff—H. L. McCord, Jackson township; J. W. Cunningham, Brownstown township; F. E. Cosby, Owen township.

Commissioner 1 district—Charles F. Robertson, Brownstown township. Commissioner 2nd district—Allen Brown, Redding township.

Coroner—N. G. Harrod, Grassy Fork township.

The report of the committee was concurred in and an vote of thanks was extended to them for their work.

Judge Lewis then called on Attorney John H. Kamman, of Seymour, who is ready to make an active race for congressman of the fourth district. Mr. Kamman spoke enthusiastically of the prospects for the coming campaign and indicated that he is anxious to make the race in this district.

The business of the meeting having been completed the chairman introduced Honorable A. M. Hall, of Indianapolis, who made the address of the afternoon. Mr. Hall said that he came as a private citizen and not as a candidate for any office to discuss issues of vital importance to every citizen of Indiana. This it not a time, he said, for sarcastic criticism but rather for constructive planning for our state and nation. He said that as a Republican he is proud of the reflected glory of the party of Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. Mr. Hall gave an alliteration on the name of the Republican party, which brought forth a round of applause:

Re-establishes representative rule.
Establishes equality.
Provides protection, promotes patriotism.
Upholds union.
Boosts business.
Legalizes liberty.
Inspires industry.
Cultivates citizenship.
Animates armies.
Never neglects national liberty.

LIGHT ORDINANCE AGAIN ADVANCED

Franchise to Proposed New Company of Local Capital Approved on Second Reading.

SLIGHT CHANGES ARE VOTED

Provides City Shall Own Street Lamps Paying for Them in Ten Equal Annual Installments.

That there is general interest in the proposed franchise to the Commercial Electric & Power Company of Seymour was indicated by the audience that was present at the adjourned session of the city council last night when the ordinance was placed on second reading. It was introduced at the meeting Thursday night but was taken up for detailed discussion at the adjourned session. The amended ordinance is much longer than the original draft and includes many additional sections.

"This is the only ordinance in all the world, that I know of, which has been drafted by the city officials and city council," said Mayor Ross in speaking of it at the meeting. Mayor Ross, City Engineer Rights and City Attorney Kasting were largely instrumental in drafting it. The proposed ordinance was written after many other franchises were studied. The best parts of all the others were included in the new one together with additional sections that are of value locally, according to the mayor.

The council chamber was filled before the time for the meeting and it was necessary to bring in additional chairs from the police court. Many business men were present.

The ordinance was read section by section and several slight changes were made. It was then passed on second reading by unanimous vote. All the councilmen except Ahlbrand were present. A study of the ordinance shows that it was framed for the interest of the city and it is doubtful if another will be found in existence in the state. Several matters which come within the rules prescribed by the Indiana public service commission were stricken out or were referred to the commission.

A peculiar feature of the ordinance and one which the councilmen feel will be valuable to the city is that the city shall purchase the street lamps and shall pay for them in ten equal installments. In other words the company will supply the lamps and the city will pay for them in ten years' time. This section was included so that if any new types of lamps are invented which will give greater candle power than those now in use with less current the city will be free to make the change. The ordinance gives the city the right to have the street lamps on a meter so it will be to the advantage of the city to have the most efficient lamps in use. The provision concerning the purchase of the lamps is section 23. The company is allowed an interest on the money which is used in paying for the lamps when they are bought from the manufacturer.

The ordinance will be presented for third reading and final passage February 3. As all the councilmen registered favorable votes to the ordinance

FOURTH WARD COUNCILMAN MARRIED, SAYS REPORT

Relatives of Mr. C. H. Ahlbrand and Miss Rose Rau Have Not Confirmed the Rumor.

That the marriage of Mr. C. H. Ahlbrand, manager of the Union Hardware Company, and councilman from the Fourth ward, and Miss Rose Rau, of this city, occurred yesterday in Indianapolis was currently reported today, but friends and relatives of the couple would not confirm the report. Mr. Ahlbrand went to Indianapolis Sunday ostensibly to attend the convention of retail hardware dealers. At the store today it was stated that Mr. Ahlbrand would be out of the city the rest of the week. It was generally understood among friends of the couple, it is reported, that the wedding was to take place this week.

Dogs Can Bite and Scratch on Owners' Premises Without "Tag"

No longer is a dog an expensive luxury in Seymour. With one mighty blow Councilman Andrews, champion of the Amalgamated Society for the Promulgation of the Unrestricted Rights of Canines, wiped from the city ordinance the requirement that every dog owner shall pay an annual license fee for the privilege of owning a dog. It was Andrews' only alternative. He tried to effect the repeal of the new ordinance which compels every owner to keep his dog on his own premises and providing a penalty for violation, but his motion was lost for a want of a second.

When the motion was lost for want of support, Andrews presented another ordinance. "I am not surprised that the council failed to act on my first motion," said Andrews. "In fact, I rather expected it. But I am prepared for it and now present an ordinance to repeal the city tax on dogs."

The second ordinance was passed without a dissenting vote. Ley, who championed the regulation to require owners to keep their dogs on their own property, seconded Andrews' motion.

When the ordinance was passed repealing the tax law, Chief of Police McCord smiled. He knew that no longer he would be required to chase dogs on a hot summer day just because they were not decorated with a brass check on the neck. He foresaw that the "dog house" with its howling and yelping mob would be a matter of history. C. W. Burkart, of the treasurer's office, and City Clerk Albert Johnson smiled too. They had visions of owners of dogs marching into the office and paying real money for "tags" complaining that their neighbor's dog was permitted to rove the streets without even so much as a collar on his neck. And the councilmen smiled too, for they realized that the "fight" against the "man's friend" was over and that they need have no fear in passing that last dark alley on their way to home. So everybody was happy. Even the spectators who were present to try and keep the council from repealing the ordinance requiring all dogs to be harbored on the premises of their owners laughed aloud. They too, had won their fight. The result was like one big victory. Everybody won their fight and nobody lost.

The result of the repeal of the tax ordinance ends a fight that has been waged for several months. The ordinance requiring all dogs to be kept on the premises of their owners will go into effect March 1. The time for buying licenses for dogs did not expire until that date but the repeal means that no tags will be sold from the clerk's office this year.

COMPROMISE SCHEDULE IS FILED BY INTERSTATE CO.

Councilmen Believe that Reductions, if Any, Are Too Small to Seriously Consider.

RATES BEFORE COMMISSION

A compromise schedule of rates for electric light and power service in this city was filed Monday with the state public service commission by the Interstate Public Service Company. Councilman Hodapp was in Indianapolis yesterday on business and while there called at the office of the commission and was informed that the new schedule was to be filed within a hour or so. He returned to the building later and found that they had been placed before the commission. He immediately copied them and reported to his colleagues here.

The rates offered by the company in compromise are not much of a reduction to their first proposition to the city, according to the way the city official figure. Mr. Hodapp said he told the commission that to him the compromise seemed to be all in favor of the Interstate company and so far as he was concerned he did not believe that any time ought to be wasted in trying to arrange a new schedule on that basis. The commission asked him to inform the other members of the council of the new schedule and if they desired to take up the matter further before a hearing is granted to write the commission. As yet no reply has been sent and the council does not seem to be in favor of talking a compromise on the basis proposed by the company in the new schedule.

The rates proposed before the commission are:

For lighting:
First 25 K. W. H. 10.6 cents.
Next 50 K. W. H. 10 cents.
Next 75 K. W. H. 8 cents.
Next 150 K. W. H. 7 cents.
Over 300 K. W. H. 5 cents.
A discount of ten per cent. for payment of bills before the 10th of the month is allowed. Minimum charge 75 cents a month.

Rates for power are:
First 500 K. W. H. 4 cents.
Next 500 K. W. H. 4 cents.
Over 1,000 K. W. H. 3 cents.
No discount was included for prompt payment of bills. Minimum charge 50 cents per horse power per month.

Mr. Hodapp told the commission that in his opinion the company ought to establish a rate of not over 8.5 cents with a ten per cent. discount for the maximum charge and then establish a graduated scale for heavier consumers. The commission intimated, however, that if Seymour could get this rate it would be a good

LUSITANIA NOTE SAID TO BE UNSATISFACTORY

Reports from White House Indicate that Answer Fails to Meet U. S. Demands.

PLACED BEFORE THE CABINET

By United Press.
Washington, January 25.—That unsatisfactory, rather than satisfactory terms, had been given the Lusitania negotiations by Germany's latest note was indicated by the White House today, where it was said printed forecasts showing complete concessions to United States demands were "unjustified by the facts."

It was revealed that the note was delivered to Secretary Lansing by Ambassador Bernstorff Saturday and by Lansing to President Wilson yesterday. The president today placed it before his cabinet.

That he may clear up the situation as far as possible before he leaves on his western trip, the president will confer at length with Secretary Lansing tomorrow afternoon. He has changed his time of leaving from New York from tomorrow noon to tomorrow at midnight in order to have this conference.

That Germany's representatives in Washington believe the new note is satisfactory to the government here, was stated at the embassy.

"It is Germany's last word," said one official. He indicated he had reason to think the state department and President Wilson regarded it as meeting the situation. He said he did not see how Germany could go any further.

Ambassador Bernstorff called at the state department this afternoon. It is understood the ambassador was to receive from Secretary Lansing word of President Wilson's decision regarding the latest Lusitania memorandum.

Secretary Lansing requested newspapermen that they refrain from stopping and questioning the ambassador either as he entered or left the department. The request was made at the department's order, it was stated.

ELEVEN TOWNS TO BE REPRESENTED

Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters of Jackson and Scott Counties to Meet Here February 17.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR PUBLIC

Conference for Officers of Various Lodges will be Held in Afternoon—Degree Work.

Knights of Pythias and members of the Pythian Sisters of Jackson and Scott counties will meet here Thursday, February 17, for an all-day meeting. Elaborate plans for the meeting have been made by Deputy Grand Chancellor W. G. Geile, a member of Hermion Lodge and his committee. The members of the committee are W. L. Johnson, H. L. McCord, Voss Cox, Edward Kidd, Peter Nichter and Bert White. Besides this committee each lodge and Temple in the two counties has a committee to assist in the arrangements. The indications are that the meeting here will be one of the most successful ever held by the two counties.

Eleven towns will be represented. They are: Seymour, Vallonia, Medora, Brownstown, Reddington, Cortland, Kurtz, Houston, Uniontown, Crothersville and Scottsburg. The lodge and temple in each place will send a delegation which insures a big crowd for a bi-county meeting.

Mr. Geile and his committee have arranged for a public entertainment at the Majestic theater on the afternoon of February 17. This will be open to the public and a program of unusual merit will be rendered. At least one number of the afternoon's entertainment will be given by each lodge. The reports coming to the local committee say that the various lodges and temples are much interested in the numbers which they will give and are anxious to contribute to the success of the program.

At the close of the public entertainment a conference of the officers of the various lodges will be held at Castle Hall. It is stated that some very important questions will be discussed at this meeting. Practically all the officers of the eleven lodges will be present.

At night the lodges will hold a meeting at Castle Hall and the Rank of Page and Rank of Knight will be conferred by the degree staff of Hermion lodge. This lodge is known throughout southern Indiana for its excellent work and it has several features in connection with the degrees that are not to be found anywhere else in the middle west.

While Hermion Lodge is conferring the degrees at Castle Hall the Pythian Sisters will hold a meeting in the Odd Fellows' Hall and the work will be given by the Success Temple, this city.

Lunch and coffee will be served to the visitors during the day.

The local lodge and temple are making elaborate plans for the entertainment of their visitors and much interest is shown in the meeting. As the afternoon entertainment will be open to the public a crowded house is assured as many local people will take advantage of the opportunity to hear the program that is being arranged.

TEUTONS INAUGURATE NEW CAMPAIGNS FROM AIR

Four German Raids in English Channel Port Are Reported in Forty-eight Hours.

By United Press.

London, January 25.—Four German raids on English channel ports in forty-eight hours and the bombing of numerous villages behind the French lines mark the inauguration of a new Teutonic campaign from the air. An official statement from the admiralty reported a raid by two German aeroplanes on the French seaport of Dunkirk at 6 a. m. today.

The admiralty added that a German aeroplane, possibly one of those engaged in the Dunkirk attack, was shot down by a British aviator at Newport, eighteen miles from Dunkirk and a short distance from the German lines.

MANN FAVORABLE TO PREPAREDNESS

Republican House Leader Says There is More Danger of War with England than with Germany.

WANTS BIG STANDING ARMY

Urges Ample Coast Fortifications and Navy Able to Defend U. S. on Seas.

By United Press.

Washington, January 25.—There is more danger of war with England than with Germany, Republican Leader Mann today declared in a speech in the house, announcing he would support preparedness legislation. He urged immediate creation of a standing army of from 250,000 to a half million men. Regarding his attitude for preparedness he said:

"As an emergency we should increase the regular army to from 250,000 to 300,000 or even half a million. We should provide ample coast fortifications and a navy able to defend us on the seas."

Loud applause was given Mann from both Democrats and Republicans, nearly all leaders from both parties being present to hear his speech. The Republican leader urged non-partisan consideration of the question and support of the administration.

"It is well known that I have never been in favor of a large standing army and I suppose I have been properly classed as a 'little navy' man," said Mann.

Norseman Sunk Near British Isles, According to a Dispatch to Exchange Telegraph.

By United Press.

London, January 25.—The Dominion Liner Norseman, has been sunk by a submarine, according to a Liverpool dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph.

The Norseman is a 10,750 ton steel screw steamer owned by the British and North Atlantic Steamship Company of Liverpool and flew the British flag. She has been in service in the Atlantic and presumably was sunk in the waters around British Isles. If this assumption is correct she is the largest liner with the exception of the Lusitania to be sunk by a submarine.

LIGHT ORDINANCE
AGAIN ADVANCED

on second reading last night it is believed that it will be approved after third reading.

As amendment cannot be made to an ordinance on third reading except by unanimous consent of the council, the franchise will be substantially as it was passed last night. The summary of the ordinance, section by section follows:

Section 1.

This section provides "an ordinance for lighting by electricity the streets, avenues, bridges, alleys, public places and buildings of the City of Seymour, Indiana, and authorizing the Commercial Electric and Power Company of Seymour, their successors or assigns to acquire, construct, maintain and operate an electric light, heat and electric power system in said City of Seymour, Indiana, and vend electric energy to the City of Seymour, Indiana, and its inhabitants."

It also gives the company the right to use the streets and alleys for the purpose of erecting poles and stringing wires, lay conduits and construct manholes in the streets and alleys such as would be necessary to provide the service. The franchise shall be in force and effect for twenty years after its acceptance.

Section 2.

This section provides that when the term "said city" is used in the franchise it shall mean the city of Seymour and when "said company" is used the term shall mean the Commercial Electric and Power Company of Seymour. It further provides that when the city desires to give notice to the company a written notice to any of its agents, employees or officers shall be sufficient.

Section 3.

The company shall provide service twenty-four hours per day, seven days in the week, and shall install and maintain complete duplicate machinery and apparatus of the most modern and up-to-date kind in their power plant so as to prevent against interruption of service.

Section 4.

It is agreed that all rules and regulations prescribed by the company shall be subject to the rules of the Indiana Public Service Commission.

Section 5.

Before company shall erect any of its equipment in the streets or alleys it shall execute to the city a bond to be maintained throughout the term of the franchise in the penal sum of $5,000 to indemnify the city against any and all loss sustained by any individual, firm or corporation by reason of the construction, maintenance or operation of service. Provision is also made for renewal of bond in case the amount of the first should become exhausted. Failure to comply with this section is agreed to be a ground for forfeiture of the franchise.

Section 6.

This section provides that the company shall defend any action when notified in writing to do so growing out of the passage of this ordinance or for failure to comply with the provisions of the ordinance. It is further provided that the city shall at all times be held harmless in such actions.

Section 7.

This section required the company to erect its equipment in a safe and workmanlike manner. Poles shall be at least thirty-five feet in height, sound, smooth and reasonable straight. No wires shall be suspended less than twenty-five feet above any street, grade or crossing without permission of the council. All wires in the fire district shall be laid under ground. All others shall be placed in the alleys whenever practical.

Section 8.

The location of the poles and construction of conduits shall not unnecessarily interfere with the right and privileges enjoyed by any person, firm or corporation under any ordinance granted by the city.

Section 9.

Company is required to display proper danger signals where repair or construction work is being done. A permit from the city engineer is required before excavation is made in any street or alley and all holes or trenches shall remain uncovered only as long as is required to complete the work. The company shall bear the cost of replacing all streets and alleys in as good condition as the company found them. Skilled workmen shall be employed to do this work. All such restoration shall be inspected and approved by the city engineer.

Section 10.

Council reserves the right to cause any conduit, manhole, line of poles to be changed from place to place at any time when such change is deemed necessary to the interests of the city. Such changes to be made at cost of company.

Section 11.

City to enact and enforce such ordinances as may be necessary for the protection of the company's property.

Section 12.

Right is reserved by city to use the poles if said company for attaching wires and appurtenances for fire and police, telegraph and telephone systems. Company agrees to this provided such wires at attached under such reasonable restrictions as it may prescribe. Company shall not be liable for any damage resulting from such wires when damage or injury is caused through the fault of the city.

Section 13.

Council reserves all rights and powers vested in it and various boards concerning regulation of alleys and streets, etc. Nothing in this ordinance shall be taken to mean the abridgement of any police powers now vested in the city.

Section 14.

This section provides that the company shall furnish all equipment including transmission lines, fixtures and lamps but that this shall not include the lights and wiring in the city buildings, which will be furnished and maintained by the city. All materials shall be the best of their respective kinds and shall be installed in the most approved manner to insure safety and continuity of operation.

Section 15.

The company shall indemnify the city against any liability or damage growing out of any patent infringement on account of the use by said city or by the company for the city of any machinery, devices or appliances used by company in furnishing electric energy or light to the city under this ordinance.

Section 16.

The city has the right to increase the number of street lamps as may become necessary and company shall install the lamps within sixty days after receipt of written notice from the city.

Section 17.

The location of lamps shall be under the direction of the city or its authorized representatives. The city has the right to change the location of any lamp at the cost of the company, the change to be made within thirty days after the company receives written notice from the city. "All lamps shall be hung over the middle of the street and when placed at the intersection of two streets, lamps shall be hung over the middle point of the intersection. If at any other point it is desirable to have lamps on brackets at the side of the street, they may or shall be so hung on the issuing of an order so directing by the city engineer of said city."

Section 18.

This section was in conflict with a later one and was stricken out.

Section 19.

Each pole shall be numbered with black numbers on a white background and the company is required to furnish the city clerk with a table showing the location of each. (This section also provided that the police department should keep a record of all outage but as the ordinance provides that street lamps shall be on meter, this was deemed unnecessary and was stricken out.)

Section 20.

The said company shall furnish and vend electric energy at rates not in excess of the following:

Commercial and domestic light rates:

- Minimum fifty cents per month.
- 8c first 25 K. W. H.
- 7c next 50 K. W. H.
- 6c next 100 K. W. H.
- 5c next 225 K. W. H.

4c all over 400 K. W. H.

A cash discount of 10 per cent. shall be made for payment of bills on or before the 10th of the month at the office of said company.

Power rate:

Minimum rate fifty cents per horse power.

- 5c first 100 K. W. H.
- 4 1/2c next 300 K. W. H.
- 4c next 600 K. W. H.
- 3 1/2c next 1,000 K. W. H.
- 3c next 1,000 K. W. H.
- 2 1/2c all over 3,000 K. W. H.

A cash discount of 10 per cent will be given for payment of bills on or before the 10th of the month at office of the company.

Section 21.

This section provided a 4c rate for public buildings but as public lighting comes under the rules prescribed by the Indiana Public Service Commission, the section was stricken out.

Section 22.

It is provided that the company shall install instruments to accurately and correctly measure the current consumed by the city.

Section 23.

The said company shall furnish and install street lights of such type or types and at such times and locations as the city may order. Upon the installation of such lamps the company shall render to the city a statement showing the cost of such equipment. This cost shall include the lamp complete with necessary fittings, hanger and lamp support, whether suspension cable, mast arm or bracket, and the cost of labor of installing the same, but shall not include the cost of any poles, current carrying wires or generating equipment. The cost above referred to shall be the company's purchase price of materials plus all carriage charges and the actual amount paid for labor. It is mutually agreed that the said city shall pay the said company annually 11 per cent. of such statement, in twelve equal monthly payments, for a period of ten (10) years. Such payments shall constitute a full reimbursement for all amortization, depreciation, obsolescence, interest and investment charges, and after the expiration of the 10-year period no further expense shall incur to the city for the use of said equipment. If at any time the city desires to substitute a different type of lamp for any lamp or lamps then in use, or discontinue the use of any lamp, all the remaining yearly installments upon such lamp equipment as is discontinued shall become due and be paid. Upon the installation of such new equipment a statement of cost shall be rendered to the city and payments of the same shall be as above provided. Unless a new contract is entered into between said city and said company at the time of the expiration of this contract, all the remaining yearly installments upon the street lighting equipment shall become due and be paid, and the said equipment shall become the property of the city and may be removed by the city from the poles of the company.

Section 24.

The said company shall take charge of the operation, maintenance and repair of all public street lights and shall render to the city a monthly bill covering the cost of all incandescent lamps used for renewals, electrodes for arc lamps, repairs parts and glassware used during the previous month plus ten per cent. Such ten per cent. shall be considered as reimbursement to the company for stock charges and for labor for maintenance and care of lamps.

Section 25.

The said company shall have authority to divide said city into three zones as follows:

First Zone: Including all the territory streets, alleys, etc., between Fourth, Bruce, Broadway and Poplar streets.

Second Zone: Including all the territory outside of the first zone, and extending to Seventh street on the north, Laurel on the south, Bill on the east, and Pine on the west.

Third Zone: Including all the territory outside of the second zone and inside the city limits.

It is provided that service shall be in operation in the first zone within eight months after the acceptance of the franchise and the company shall extend their system to the second and third zones whenever the council shall determine it is necessary. Any extensions ordered shall be made six months after written notice is given by the council to said company.

Section 26.

The council reserves the right to purchase any stock in said company at its organization at $100 a share to be sold at par. Stock and bond issues made by the company shall be subject to the approval of the council. The council further reserved the right of buying the plant that may be constructed by said company at any time after sixty days notice. The city shall be required for the actual physical value of the plant only. It is further agreed that after the first three years no dividend in excess of 7 per cent shall be paid on the capital stock and that after the three year period any net earnings in excess of 7 per cent shall be paid to the city. The company is required to make a full statement at the close of each fiscal year when settlement shall be made with the city. The books of the company are open to the mayor or any other representative of the city should there be a doubt as to the accuracy of the statement submitted by the company relative to its financial condition. The city reserves the right to examine the books

The salaries of all officers, agents and employees of the company shall be reasonable and subject to the approval of the council.

Section 29.

All sums due the company for lighting under this franchise shall be made in monthly payments on or before the 15th day of the succeeding month. Forfeitures and penalties accruing and due the said city under this ordinance shall first be deducted in such settlements.

Section 30.

Company shall install all meters and shall furnish all labor and material necessary to deliver electric energy to said meters at their own expense.

Section 31.

The company is required to furnish current to any commercial or domestic user within 500 feet of the nearest consumer within a reasonable time after demand is made.

Section 32.

Company shall not be required to furnish electric energy to any wiring or appliances until such wiring connections, fixtures and appliances have been inspected and found to be safe and free from defects. Company is not liable for damages resulting from defective wiring and shall be given the right to discontinue service when such wiring is found to be unsafe. Company is further required to test all meters upon demand at its own cost at intervals not greater than one year.

Section 33.

Company is required to give bond for $5,000 for faithful performance of its contract.

Section 34.

Failure of said company to strictly perform each and all conditions of this contract shall work a forfeiture of the contract upon the resolution by council to that effect.

Section 35.

This ordinance shall be in full force and become operative for a period of twenty years within thirty days after its acceptance by the council as attested by the signature of the mayor and the indorsement on the minute books of the city clerk.

Additional Section.

It is mutually agreed to and understood that nothing contained herein shall be binding on the city as to public street lighting until the present contract of the city with the Interstate Public Service Company for lighting the streets has been legally declared void.

THE CHICAGO FIASCO

The last attempted uprising had been set for Chicago at the time of the meeting of the national Democratic convention. The increase of the federal garrison at Chicago led to the rumor that the convention would be molested. This was probably the occasion of a statement of the Indiana Democratic Committee, advising Democrats to arm. But when the conspirators, joined by sixty Confederate soldiers from Canada, met in Chicago, they found themselves utterly unprepared for revolt. They were leaders without an organized following. They had difficulty in finding each other in thronged Chicago, and nothing was done. After the example of the King of France and his forty thousand men—they had marched up to Chicago, and then marched home again.

The Grocer and the Home

The small grocer controls seventy per cent. of the food product trade of the country.

The goods move directly over his counter to the family larder. He is a neighborhood institution. He comes in close contact with his customers at all times and intimately knows their likes and dislikes.

It would be strange if the grocery men were not quick to sense the influence of newspaper advertising. He knows customers begin calling for certain brands by name when these brands are newspaper advertised. What is more natural than that he should push these particular articles?

REVENUE STAMP ROBBERS MAY USE CHICAGO AS BASE

Men Who Recently Robbed Evansville Postoffice Were Traced to Chicago by Federal Agents.

By United Press.

Chicago, January 25.—Federal agents here and at Indianapolis at St. Paul believe that the clever band of robbers who are specializing on negotiable revenue stamps are operating with this city as their base. The robbers doubtless have a "fence" here who gets a large share of the profits in return for disposing of the second hand stamps.

The two big deals put over by the revenue stamp thieves were at Evansville, Ind. and at St. Paul, Minn. At both places the robbers left their instruments behind, and in both instances the tools were identical. In both cities the robbers had prepared with a highpower automobile and in both instances they made a dash in the direction of Chicago.

The men who did the work at Evansville were traced nearly to Chicago. When other plans failed them they stole the machine of a wealthy Evansville man, and the peculiarities of this machine aided in the chase.

Because of the difficulties experienced in disposing of the second-hand revenue stamps, it is believed that the "fence" must be in a position of considerable consequence, possibly in the federal service, itself. Federal agents believe that the "fence" gets more than 50 per cent. of the profits.

At St. Paul, the thieves got stamps worth nearly $900,000 and at Evansville, the booty was worth $15,000. The thieves show discrimination, taking war stamps that are salable and disregarding the non-negotiable type.

"An opportunity is afforded Seymour people this week to see 'The Battle Cry of Peace' at the Mary Anderson Theatre, Louisville, said to be the greatest moving picture ever produced in America. The picture was on exhibition at the Mary Anderson last week and the engagement will continue at that theatre until the end of the present week. Local people who saw the film last week state that it required almost an hour for them to get inside the theatre owing to the crowds at the entrance. The picture is said to have cost $1,000,000.00 and some 35,000 people took part in its production. The picture is of particular interest at this time, owing to its important bearing on the preparedness program which President Wilson has just outlined for the consideration of Congress and the American people. The picture is undoubtedly of great educational value in the portrayal of modern warfare."

WHERE ARE WE?

Cincinnati Enquirer (Democratic.)

Well may the Administration ask itself the question as to Mexico, "Where are we at?"

The people of the United States in every state of the Union are asking that not only as to Mexico, but as to our foreign relations with nearly every European country.

For three years now we have had the Democratic Administration in full power, and, while systematically concealing from the people of the United States the contents of the reports of public officials, pursuing without obstruction its own methods as to Mexican affairs, and what are the results before the nations of the world today?

What in way of results have these methods brought to the people of Mexico?

What to the people of the United States?

What to the nationals of all other nations who have looked to our Government for order and protection?

From the dastardly murder of the Scotchman, Benton, down to the massacre of the nineteen Americans last week, through all the long series of robberies, outrages and murders during the three years the present Administration has looked after the relations of this country with Mexico, what American lives but regrets that our country has so signally failed to do its duty in the protection of peaceful citizens and helpless women and children?

Is there an American that breathes that is not humiliated and shamed by those orders from Washington which took our naval squadron out of the harbor of Tampico in April, 1914, leaving unprotected hundreds of American women and children in the city at the mercy of Mexican mobs, to be rescued at midnight by the German sailors and marines of the cruiser Dresden?

What of those repeated orders from President and State Department for Americans to flee from their oppressors, insulters and would-be murderers, and not an effort made to have our navy or our army to fly to the protection of these people who do no wrong, think no wrong, and yet are compelled to fly from bandits and cutthroats that but yesterday were patriots and up-lifters, in whose behalf our President raised the embargo on arms and allowed them to equip for their murderous work?

Is this statesmanship as it was of old?

Is this the best the Democratic Administration can do for the American people in way of protecting its own people on this continent?

Is this Americanism in its noblest, best and most glorious form—the ideal form of every patriot?

To the Emperor it bears no trace of statesmanship; it lacks the vital spark of the spirit of the Democratic party; there is not a particle of Americanism to be found in this entire record of weakness, vacillation and sacrifice of our people.

ENGINEERS FIND SOURCE OF ROOSEVELT'S RIVER OF DOUBT

Explorers in South America Reach Headwaters of Famous Stream.

The tracing to the source of the Rio Dubina (River of Doubt), the existence of which was reported by Theodore Roosevelt on his return from South America, was described by George and Stephen Gester of Berkeley, Cal., engineers in the employ of the Standard Oil company, who returned from an expedition into the Cordillera Geral (Andes) mountains.

The engineers said they reached the headwaters of the River of Doubt by crossing the Andes with pack mules from Lima, Peru. They had with them, they said, data from Mr. Roosevelt's report from which to check their observations.

The river, according to the Gesters, has its source among glaciers high up in the mountains. The explorers said they crossed mountains at an elevation of 17,500 feet and that they encountered glaciers at the 12,000 foot level.

They described the river as running 900 miles from the boundary of Bolivia, emptying into the Madeira river near latitude 5.

The engineers said they penetrated the "fever country," where Mr. Roosevelt was stricken. They were attacked by insects, they said, and encountered enormous serpents and other reptiles and strange animals in the dense forests, through which they cut their way with hatchets.

KOKOMO MAN SAYS WORDS FAIL HIM

R. M. Hankins Asserts He is Unable to Speak Full Gratitude For Tanlac.

Kokomo, Ind., January 24, 1916.—"Yes, sir, Tanlac has helped me in every way and I am only too glad to tell others about it," said R. M. Hankins, a well known farmer, who lives on Rural Route No. 12, Kokomo, when asked if he was pleased with the new medicine.

"I believe I got more good out of my first bottle of Tanlac than I have out of all other medicines—and they are many—that I have taken recently. That's why I'm back for my second bottle.

"I suffered from rheumatism and eczema and was in a run down condition. My food didn't agree with me and I was constipated. Tanlac helped me from the first few doses. In a few days I noticed a wonderful improvement. Now, the constipation has been relieved, my blood has been purified, driving the rheumatism and eczema from my system, and altogether, I feel like a new man. There's nothing I could say that would fully express my gratitude."

Thousands of Indiana people are now taking Tanlac with most beneficial results. Tanlac is excellent for rebuilding run down systems following attacks of pneumonia, la grippe, and the like and is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, rheumatism, catarrhal complaints and the like.

Tanlac is now sold exclusively in Seymour at Carter's Drug Store. Advertisement.

IT'S BARON ASTOR OF HEVER.

New Peer Takes Title From Anne Boleyn's Castle.

William Waldorf Astor, who has been raised to the peerage by King George, will take the title of Baron Astor of Hever castle.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford probably will be Baron Beresford of Metemeh and Curraghmore.

Hever castle is an ancient mansion in Kent, rebuilt by the great-grandfather of Anne Boleyn, where Anne Boleyn was visited by Henry VIII, before their marriage. It is said to be one of the finest examples of Tudor architecture in England. Baron Astor spent some $10,000,000 on the estate, including the expenditure for the diversion of the river which, according to tradition, made the castle so damp that Henry VIII, contracted rheumatism there.

Metemeh is the scene of one of Admiral Lord Beresford's early exploits in Egypt, while Curraghmore is the family home of the Marquis of Waterford, the head of the Beresford family.

GIRL'S ANKLES SAVE TWO.

Boys Hauled to Safety After Breaking Through Ice.

Miss Rose Krauss, eighteen, of New York rescued two boys from drowning in one of the ponds at Van Cortlandt park.

Clarence Carpenter, twelve, and his brother John, ten, Yonkers, had been forbidden to go on the ice. But John decided to try the ice on a pond known as the Swamp, which is near the subway terminal. He dropped off a bridge that spans the pond. The ice broke, and he went into the water. Clarence dropped on the ice to rescue his brother, and he, too, went through.

Miss Krauss saw the accident. She climbed over the railing of the bridge, lowered herself until her feet almost touched the ice and then shouted to the boys to "catch hold." With the two boys holding on to her ankles Miss Krauss pulled them to safety.

A Song of the Sword

I am the sword;
Yea, babble of peace as ye will,
I am the master still,
For mine is the ultimate word.
When I speak naught else is heard.

Since ever the world began
I have been lord of man.
When the first anvil rang
'Twas of the sword it sang,
And the forge of Tubal roared
As he hammered the ruddy sword.

Scepter and orb and crown
At the flash of my wrath sing down,
While the bat spreads dusky wings
O'er the urns of mighty kings
That I broke and cast aside
And crushed in their pomp and pride.
For those I love I crown
And those I hate cast down.

Potent to slay or shield,
Lord of the stricken field,
Where flaunting pennons stream
And sparkling lances gleam,
Men come to be judged by me,
And I utter the last decree.
For I am the sword,
And, babble of peace as ye will,
I am the master still.

FARM TO TABLE PLAN GETS O. K. OF POSTOFFICE HEAD

Parcel Post Will Bring Housewife and Producer Together.

W. N. Collins, acting postmaster of Kansas City, Mo., has won recognition from Washington of his efforts to make the parcel post a farm to table servant. By special order of Postmaster General Burleson he has been given authority to become a clearing house between the farm and the city, bringing producer and consumer together.

In results it is perhaps the biggest thing the department has done since establishing the parcel post service. Mr. Collins believes.

Here is what it will do: The farmers, and especially those within the 150 mile zone of Kansas City, will write in giving a list of the produce they have to sell. This will be printed on a list issued at frequent intervals. The city housewife who asks for this list may have it mailed to her, and she may write direct to the producer to order. The carriers will distribute these lists to the homes if the voluntary demand does not prove sufficient.

Thus consumer and producer are introduced. If the producer wishes the product may be sent C. O. D. for an extra charge of 10 cents, and the post-office department will collect and return the money.

"Few persons realize how cheaply they might have fresh vegetables, fruit, butter, eggs, meat, lard, sorghum and many other farm products direct from the farm," Mr. Collins said. "The carriage charges are very light. The rule is that within 150 miles the package is carried for just 4 cents more than the number of pounds. Thus a ten pound ham would be carried for 14 cents. The C. O. D. charge, which insures the sender, would be the uniform one of 10 cents, thus bringing the total ten pound cost up to 24 cents."

Mr. Collins will get a list of the farmers by bulletins sent to the country postoffices.

CORFU SEIZED WHILE ASLEEP

Troops, Animals and Supplies Landed From Warships In Night.

Not a transport was used in the surprise landing of the French on the island of Corfu. Every man, gun, mule, horse, round of ammunition and pound of forage was embarked on French cruisers, which, conveyed by a flotilla of destroyers, left an unnamed port on Jan. 9.

Steaming at nineteen knots they sighted Corfu on the night of Jan. 10. With lights out they crept up the narrow channel between Corfu and the mainland, which had been infested by U boats, and entered Corfu harbor at 2 o'clock in the morning.

When Captain von Papen, the recalled German military attaché at Washington, was held up at Falmouth he produced the safe conduct which had been given to him by the British government at the request of the United States state department and demanded that he be allowed to proceed unmolested.

The former attaché was politely informed that the safe conduct only concerned his body and that the fact that he was allowed to retain his clothes was entirely an act of grace of the British navy. At that Captain von Papen used very uncomplimentary language in English, the British report said, and surrendered with bad grace the documents he carried.

Big Four trying to crush Brotherhood of Clerks.

General Superintendent Admits This in Discussing Condition—Strike Threatened.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, January 25.—The Big Four Railway will use every means in its power to crush the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks which is being organized among its employees.

General Superintendent Coffin made this statement to the United Press today.

Coffin admitted that the three men discharged at Marion, Ind., yesterday, were discharged because they belonged to the union and because they were "unsatisfactory employees."

John McNamee appointed by the union as its mediator, said the clerks were organizing to get better working conditions. "They work twelve hours a day, seven days in the week for an average of $60 a month and are docked for lost time and get no overpay," he said. Representatives of the union believed today a general strike is near.

schedule for a city of this size.

The present power rate is approximately the same as the one offered in the compromise except that the schedule now in force gives a ten per cent. discount for prompt payment and a large deduction for amount in excess of 500 K. W. H.

The council will likely take no action on the proposed compromise schedule as it has been decided to take the new franchise before the commission and also let that body fix the rates for the Interstate Company.

An Old Proverb.

It used to be proverbial that every man (and is is certainly no less true of woman) is either a fool or a physician at forty. This means that every intelligent person must learn so much about caring for his own health that by the time he is forty years of age he can almost be reckoned as a physician.

Why, then, is there so much talk by doctors against "self-medication"? A woman can recognize all ordinary ailments without calling on a doctor. If they are ailments distinctive to her sex she generally knows enough to use that greatest of all remedies for such ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and likewise she is familiar with the standard remedies for other diseases.

SPRING WEATHER CONTINUES MAXIMUM 63 DEGREES TODAY

Weather One Year Ago This Week was Most Severe of Winter, with Minimum of 11 Degrees Below.

With a maximum temperature of 63 and a minimum of 40, Seymour today enjoyed another touch of near Spring weather. And probably it may help you to appreciate it more if you will recall that a year ago this week you were experiencing one of the most severe cold spells of the winter. On January 24, 1915, the mercury went down to 11 below. One year ago today it slowly climbed up to 14 above, but fell again on the 26th to 10 below, and for the next two days registered 6 and 8 below respectively. A nine-inch snow covered the ground. The forecast for Wednesday is for colder, and it is expected that the Spring-like weather will have to give way again for winter.

LEADERS IN CONGRESS HEED WILSON'S REQUEST

Senate and House Committees Decide to Curtail Hearings—New Bills Proposed.

By United Press. Washington, January 25.—President Wilson's request to congress to expedite important legislation bore fruit today. Chairman spurred up their committees and both houses made additions to calendars of pending bills.

The senate military committee planned to close its preparedness hearing shortly and draft a new army bill. The house military committee also decided to curtail hearings. A new navy bill, however, is not expected to be presented in either body for at least two months.

That the Washington high school basketball team is not expecting to have things their own way in the game with Seymour Friday evening, is gathered from the following article in the Washington Herald:

The Seymour high school will come to Washington next Friday night and this game will probably be witnessed by as large a crowd as has ever been seen at a basketball game in Washington. The Seymour crowd beat the noble second team of the local high school a few weeks ago fifty-three to ten, and the first team intends to take revenge Friday night. The game will be hotly contested as the Washington second team plays a good game with the first and there are many who do not think Washington's first team can beat Seymour.

Another Wonderful Recovery From Kidney Trouble.

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctor said was Kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and as I had tried everything else that I heard of, I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends. I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

The flour is then sifted, many times, through pure white imported Swiss silk, to make its texture as fine as its quality. One trial sack will make you enthusiastic about this superfine flour.

DOVER ATTACKED BY AEROPLANE

Germans Renew Aerial Bombardment of England.

SCUTARI IS CAPTURED

Largest Trading City in Albania Taken by Austro-Hungarian Troops After Terrific Two-Day Battle—Turks Plot Against Enver Pasha.

London, Jan. 25.—Close upon the receipt here of an official Berlin report announcing that a German naval aeroplane bombarded Dover during the night, the official press bureau announced another visit to the channel port by a German aeroplane during the afternoon. The statement does not say whether bombs were dropped, but states that the German craft was engaged by British defence guns and pursued by two machines.

The main British Mesopotamia army surrounded by the Turks at Kut-el-Amara, is well supplied. There has been no attack on the fortress since the Turks closed their ring around.

These are the main points in a report received from General Sir Percy Lake, commander-in-chief of the British in Mesopotamia.

The statement is construed at meaning that there is no cause for fear that the force will be starved out in the immediate future and it strengthens the hope that the relief force, under General Aylmer, which is now six miles east of Kut-el-Amara, at Essian, facing the strongly entrenched Turks, will eventually break through and relieve the main force.

A success by the British forces in Egypt is reported in a message received by the war office by General Alexander Wallace. A British column attacked and broke up the camp of the Senoussi tribe, which recently rose against the British.

Scutari, the largest trading city in Albania, and the last great stand of the combined Montenegrin and Serbian armies, was captured by the Austro-Hungarian troops after a desperate battle which has been raging for two days.

According to Vienna official dispatches, many thousand Servians and Montenegrins, who remained in the garrison after the battle, retreated to the south without offering any resistance. The Austrians also have occupied Niksic, Danilovgrad and Podgoritz.

The Russians are continuing their advance against the Turks in the Caucasus. Petrograd says the Turks are making a precipitate retreat in the region of Erzerum, and that the Russians are capturing prisoners and ammunition and other supplies. The roads are strewn with Turkish dead.

The Russians also are on the offensive against the Teutons south of Dubno, one of the Volhynian triangle of fortresses, and on the Dniester and Pruth rivers in east Galicia.

Fifty thousand German troops have arrived at Constantinople, according to Salonica dispatches. British correspondents express the view that the object of this army is not an expedition against Egypt, but to support the authority of the Turkish war minister, Enver Pasha.

Greek reports say that the Turks recently have been restive under the rule of Enver Pasha, and serious plots against him have been discovered, these being suppressed ruthlessly.

RAIL REFERENDUM VOTE

450,000 Men Voting on Question of Eight-Hour Day.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 25.—Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, declares that the referendum vote being taken on the question of an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime, is not a strike vote in any sense.

"It is simply a referendum to learn the sentiment of the men," Stone said.

"The vote will not be counted before March 1. Until it is in, we cannot say what will happen. If it is affirmed, of course, there will be a wage movement."

William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declares the referendum vote interests 450,000 men.

TO MAKE NON-PARTISAN PLEA

President Wilson to Ask Support For His Defense Program.

Washington, Jan. 25.—President Wilson will emphasize the non-partisan character of his national defense program in the speeches he is to deliver on his stumping tour.

He will ask support from people of all parties for the measures he has suggested to congress on the grounds that these embody provision for the least expensive army and navy development that can be regarded as adequate to the country's needs. In pursuance of this determination White House officials already have notified the committees in the towns where the president is to speak, that the gatherings must not be regarded as partisan, nor any hindrance place on the attendance of all parties where the president speaks.

The president will reiterate his strong conviction that the United States faces a future whose fortunes cannot now be guessed.

FIVE KILLED IN COLLISION

Passenger Train Smashes Into Freight Train in Nebraska.

Holdrege, Nebr., Jan. 25.—Five trainmen were killed, one seriously injured and five passengers slightly injured in a head-on collision between Burlington passenger train No. 7 and an eastbound extra freight two miles west of Atlanta. The dead:

Carl Neubaer, McCook, Nebr. freight brakeman; Henry Eckman, McCook, freight engineer; Lee H. Fogg, Lincoln, passenger fireman; W. P. Maul, McCook, freight fireman, missing, believed dead in wreckage; J. J. Duffy, Lincoln, passenger engineer, died at Oxford hospital. Seriously injured: J. F. Lowrey, Bagley, Ia., passenger.

It is believed that failure to observe orders was the cause of the wreck. The baggage car, mail car and locomotive were demolished, as was the locomotive of the freight and several cars.

DEMANDS BRIBERY PROBE

Prosecutor Petitions Court to Order Investigation of His Office.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 25.—Prosecutor J. W. Kimmel petitioned Judge B. M. Willoughby of the Knox circuit court to appoint a special prosecutor to conduct an investigation before the grand jury now in session of a rumor that he has been guilty of accepting bribes from keepers of immoral resorts. The court took the matter under advisement until Thursday.

"I am getting tired of hearing these slanderous stories. I propose to make those circulating them come to a showdown," Kimmel said. "When the identity of these persons becomes known their motives will become apparent."

INCOME TAX LAW IS HELD VALID

U. S. Supreme Court Decides In Unanimous Opinion.

AMENDMENTS ARE PLANNED

Proposed to Carry Tax to Incomes Below Present Exemption and Increase Surtaxes on Incomes Exceeding $20,000—Changes Proposed.

Washington, Jan. 25.—In a sweeping decision the supreme court set its seal of approval upon the income tax law. The opinion was delivered by Chief Justice White in a test case brought by William R. Brushaber, a stockholder of the Union Pacific railroad.

The court ruled in effect that every step taken by congress in carrying out the letter and spirit of the sixteenth amendment to the constitution, the income tax amendment is correct. The constitutionality of the income tax law itself was not questioned in the Brushaber case, but nearly every detail of the law was challenged as invalid.

The decision has, in the opinion of many, opened the way for increasing the tax rate on great fortunes to help pay for national defense.

Proposals are pending in congress to tax incomes of more than $1,000,000 as high as 50 per cent. Leaders on all sides agree that out of the impetus which the decision will give such proposals is likely to come a definite movement to levy on the revenues from great private fortunes for some of the millions the government must raise to carry out the army and navy increases.

"The supreme court's decision has absolutely unfettered the income tax as a source of revenue," said Representative Hull of Tennessee, author of the law. "All doubt is removed and congress is left much freer to act. I believe congress will take advantage of the opportunity and amend the law materially. Without any unusual or unjust charges it can be made to yield $185,000,000 to $195,000,000 a year, as against $85,000,000 or $90,000,000 at present."

Representative Hull is preparing amendments to carry the tax to incomes below $3,000, and make graded increases in the surtaxes on incomes exceeding $20,000 a year.

In its decision the supreme court construed for the first time the sixteenth amendment to the constitution, under which the tax is levied, and gave it the broadest interpretation possible, rejecting suggestions to confine its scope to narrow limits.

TAKES HOT SHOT AT BOSTON

Representative Shackleford Waxes Sarcastic About Bay State.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Massachusetts and Missouri came to grips on the floor of the house. The row came up over the $25,000,000 good roads bill, which was championed by Representative Shackleford of Missouri. The bill was attacked by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts.

Mr. Shackleford resented Mr. Gardner's caustic criticism of the roads bill and waxed sarcastic about Massachusetts generally and Boston in particular. He said the Massachusetts people sometimes journeyed "as far west as Philadelphia or Buffalo," and regarded the Alleghenies as the westernmost boundary of the republic.

"Most of the time," he continued, "they go over to London, where they can mingle in congenial circles and take on even some additional polish." Mr. Gardner said Mr. Shackleford came from a part of the country "which cannot be expected to understand Massachusetts."

22 ARRESTED AFTER RIOT

Rockford (Ill.) Strikers and Police-men and Deputy Sheriffs Clash.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 25.—Twenty-two men were locked up here following a fight between deputy sheriffs, policemen and rioters at the Spangler-Loomis company plant. Nine men were discharged by the company.

Two women employees of the company were roughly handled when they attempted to enter the plant. The sheriff forces then attacked the marchers and several rioters were clubbed, but none was seriously injured.

Police reinforcements arrived and the officers soon suppressed the trouble.

Gary Has Another Mystery.

Gary, Ind., Jan. 25.—Gary police have another murder mystery. Boys playing near Nineteenth avenue and Pierce street, near the house where the Rev. Edmund Kayser was assassinated last August, found the body of a man whose throat was cut from ear to ear, and the body cut with a knife in several places. The body has not been identified.

Approves Philippine Amendment.

Washington, Jan. 25.—President Wilson has virtually given his approval to an amendment to the Philippines governing bill now pending in the senate, which provides for the independence of the islands in from two to four years.

U. S. GETS NEW LUSITANIA NOTE

Settlement of Controversy Now Predicted.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

State Department Officials Deny United States Is Preparing to Address a New Note to Austria Over Sinking of the Ancona.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Count von Bernstorff is understood to have received from his government a new note to the United States on the Lusitania controversy. Although the German embassy refused either to confirm or deny the report that such a note had arrived, it was confidently predicted in these quarters that a settlement of the controversy is about to take place. The ambassador probably will call at the state department and present the communication to Secretary Lansing.

Earlier in the day the statement was made in several quarters that the note had actually been presented at the department. Secretary Lansing denied this report flatly.

For two weeks the German embassy has been expecting to receive word from Berlin which would enable the ambassador to effect a final settlement of the controversy. At the last interview between himself and the secretary of state, the two had reached an agreement, it is said, on all features of the proposed agreement except the language to be used in the disavowal asked of Germany. Following this interview a former expression, suggested by Mr. Lansing and approved by the president, was forwarded to Berlin by Count von Bernstorff, with a suggestion from the ambassador, it is understood, that if possible the expression be approved at that end.

In view of the confidence expressed in German circles, it is believed the German government has now met the ambassador's views.

Officials of the state department denied reports that the United States was preparing to address a new note to Austria characterizing as unsatisfactory certain features of the last Austrian note on the sinking of the Ancona.

REQUEST IS NOT GRANTED

Indiana Centennial Stamps Refused by Postoffice Department.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The postoffice department has given a negative answer to a request that it authorize the issuance of a special stamp to commemorate the celebration this year of Indiana's centennial as a state.

Representative W. E. Cox presented the matter of a special stamp to Postmaster General Burleson, who said he was heartily in favor of it if it could be done legally. Third Assistant Postmaster General Dockery favored it, but explained that there is no authority of law. Only congress can authorize it.

There have been several special issues of stamps, including one to commemorate every great national exposition. It is not believed congress would permit the national function of issuing stamps to be used to commemorate a strictly state event.

TO BE TRIED THIS WEEK

Case of George Bowen Not to Come Before the Regular Judge.

Noblesville, Ind., Jan. 25.—The case of the state against George Bowen, charged with grand larceny, will be called for trial before a jury in court next Thursday.

This case is the outgrowth of the failure of the Hamilton Trust company, of which the defendant was president for ten years, and will be the first trial of a dozen indictments growing out of the failure of that institution and also the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Cicero.

Judge Cloe overruled a motion for a change of the case to another county. At the same time he granted a change of venue from himself as presiding judge and also ordered a jury from an adjoining county at the request of the defendant. The indictment on which Bowen will be tried alleges that he took the sum of $2,700 from the trust company in October before it closed its doors in January, 1915.

CHAPTER XX.

The Professor Sums Up.

THE mayor of Reuton slid into the shadows.

"As I was saying, Mr. Magee," continued the professor, "Mr. Kendrick and I came up here to secure this package of money as evidence against Cargan and the man above. I speak with the voice of the law when I say you must turn this money over to me."

For answer Magee smiled at the girl. "You'd better go now," he said. "It's a long walk down the mountain." "You refuse?" cried the professor. "Absolutely. Don't we, Miss Norton?" said Magee.

"Absolutely," she repeated bravely. "Then, sir," announced the old man crushingly, "you are little better than a thief, and this girl is your accomplice." "So it must look on the face of it," assented Magee. The girl moved to the big front door, and Magee, with his eyes still on the room, backed away until he stood beside her. He handed her his key.

"I give you," he said, "to the gods of the mountain. But it's only a loan—I shall surely want you back. I can't follow ten feet behind as I threatened—it will be ten hours instead. Good night and good luck."

She turned the key in the lock. "Billy Magee," she whispered, "yours is a faith beyond understanding. I shall tell the gods of the mountain that I am to be returned. Good night, you—dear."

She went out quickly and Magee, locking the door after her, thrust the key into his pocket. For a moment no one stirred. Then Mr. Max leaped up and ran through the flickering light to the nearest window.

There was a flash, a report and Max came back into the firelight examining a torn trouser leg.

"I don't mean to kill anybody," explained Mr. Magee—"just to wing him. But I'm not an expert—I might shoot higher than I intend—so I suggest that no one else try a break for it."

"Mr. Magee," said Miss Thornhill, "I don't believe you have the slightest idea who that girl is nor what she wants with the money."

"That," he replied, "makes it all the more exciting, don't you think?"

"Do you mean," the professor exploded, "you don't know her? Well, you young fool!"

"It's rather fine of you," remarked Miss Thornhill.

"It's asinine if it's true," the professor retorted the other side of it.

"I hope every one is quite comfortable," remarked Mr. Magee, selecting a seat facing the crowd. "It's to be a long wait, you know."

In Upper Asquewan Falls the clock on the old town hall struck 5. Mr. Magee, on guard in Baldpate's dreary office, counted the strokes. She must be halfway down the mountain now. Tonight there would be no need of a troubadour to implore "Weep No More, My Lady." William Hallowell Magee had removed the cause for tears.

It was a long vigil he had begun, but there was no boredom in it for Billy Magee. He was too great a lover of contrast for that. As he looked around on the ill assorted group he guarded he compared them with the happier people of the inn's summer nights, about whom the girl had told him. Instead of these surly or sad folk sitting glumly under the pistol of romantic youth he saw maids garbed in the magic of muslin flit through the shadows. Lights glowed softly. A waltz came up from the casino on the breath of the summer breeze. Under the red and white awnings youth and joy and love had their day—or their night. The hermit was on hand with his postal carded romance. The trees gossiped in whispers on the mountain. And, too, the rooking chair fleet gossiped in whispers on the veranda, pausing only when the admiral sailed by in his glory. Eagerly it ran down its game. This girl—this Myra Thornhill—he remembered, had herself been a victim. After Kendrick disappeared she had come there no more, for there were ugly rumors of the man who had fled. Mr. Magee saw the girl and her long absent lover whispering together in the firelight. He wondered if they, too, imagined themselves at Baldpate in the summer; if they heard the waltz in the casino and the laughter of men in the grill room.

Ten o'clock, said the town hall pompously. She was at the station now. In the room of her tears she was waiting—perhaps her only companion the jockey of the "See the World" poster, whose garb was but a shade bluer than her eyes. Who was she? What was the bribe money of the Suburban railway to her? Mr. Magee did not know, but he trusted her, and he was glad she had won through him. He saw Professor Bolton walk through the flickering half light to join Myra Thornhill and Kendrick.

It must be half past by now. Yes—from far below in the valley came the whistle of a train. Now—she was boarding it—she and the money! Boarding it—for where? For what purpose? Again the train whistled.

"The siege," remarked Mr. Magee. "Is more than half over, ladies and gentlemen."

The professor of comparative literature approached him and took a chair at his side.

"I want to talk with you, Mr. Magee," he said.

"A welcome diversion," assented Magee, his eyes still on the room.

"I have discussed matters with Miss Thornhill," said the professor in a low voice. "She has convinced me that in this affair you have acted from a wholly disinterested point of view. A mistaken idea of chivalry, perhaps. The infatuation of the moment for a pretty face—a thing to which all men with red blood in their veins are susceptible—a pleasant thing that I would be the last to want banished from the world."

"Miss Thornhill," replied Billy Magee, "has sized up the situation perfectly—except for one rather important detail. It is not the infatuation of the moment, professor. Say, rather, that of a lifetime."

"Ah, yes," the old man returned. "Youth—how sure it always is of that. I do not deprecate the feeling. Once, long ago, I, too, had youth and faith. We will not dwell on that, however. Miss Thornhill assures me that Henry Bentley, the son of my friend John Bentley, esteems you highly. She asserts that you are in every respect, as far as her knowledge goes, an admirable young man. I feel sure that after calm contemplation you will see that what you have done is very unfortunate. The package of money, which in a giddy moment you have given into a young lady's keeping, is much desired by the authorities as evidence against a very corrupt political ring. I am certain that when you know all the details you will be glad to return with me to Reuton and do all in your power to help us regain possession of that package."

And now the town hall informed Mr. Magee that the hour was 11. He pictured a train flying like a black shadow through the white night. Was she on it—safe?

"Professor Bolton," he said, "there couldn't possibly be any one anywhere more eager than I to learn all the details of this affair—to hear your real reason for coming to Baldpate inn and to have the peroxide blond incident properly classified and given its niche in history. But let me tell you again my action of tonight was no mere madness of the moment. I shall stick to it through thick and thin. Now, about the blonds."

"The blonds!" repeated the professor dreamily. "Ah, yes, I must make a small confession of guilt there! I did not come here to escape the results of that indiscreet remark, but I really made it—about a year ago. Shall I ever forget? Hardly. The newspapers and my wife won't let me. I can never again win a new honor, however dignified, without being referred to in print as the peroxide blond advocate. On the night when Mr. Kendrick and I climbed Baldpate mountain I remarked as much to him. And so it occurred to me that if I found any need of explaining my presence here the blond incident would do very well. It was only—a white lie."

"A blond one," corrected Mr. Magee. "I forgive you, professor."

"To begin with," continued the professor, "I am a member of the faculty of the University of Reuton, situated, as you no doubt know, in the city of the same name. For a long time I have taken a quiet interest in our municipal politics. I have been up in arms—linguistic arms—against this odd character Cargan, who came from the slums to rule us with a rod of iron. Every one knows he is corrupt; that he is wealthy through the sale of privilege; that there is actually a fixed schedule of prices for favors in the way of city ordinances. I have often denounced him to my friends. Since I have met him—well, it is remarkable. It is not, the effect of personality on one's opinions? I expected to face a devil, with the usual appurtenances. Instead I have found a human, rather likable man."

Mr. Magee smiled over to where the great bulk of Cargan slouched in a chair.

"He's a bully old scout," he remarked.

"Even so," replied the professor, "his high handed career of graft in Reuton must come to a speedy close. He is of a type fast vanishing through the awakening public conscience. And his career will end, I assure you, despite the fact that you, Mr. Magee, have seen fit to send our evidence scurrying through the night at the behest of a chit of a girl. I beg your pardon—I shall continue. Young Drayton, the new county prosecutor, was several years back a favorite pupil of mine. After he left law school he fell under the spell of the picturesque mayor of Reuton. Cargan liked him and he rose rapidly. Drayton had no thought of ever turning against his benefactor when he accepted the first favors, but later the open selling of men's souls began to disgust him. When Cargan offered him the place of prosecutor a few months ago Drayton assured him that he would keep his oath of office.

"It was in me, remember," he went on, "that Drayton confided his resolve to serve the public. I was delighted at the news. A few weeks ago he informed me his first opportunity was at hand. Through one of the men in his office he had learned that Hayden of the Suburban Electric was seeking to consolidate that road, which had fallen into partial disrepute under his management during the illness of Thornhill, the president, with the Civic. The consolidation would raise the value of the Suburban nearly two million dollars—at the public's expense. Hayden had seen Cargan. Cargan had drafted ordinance No. 45 and informed Hayden that his price for passing it through the council would be the sum you have juggled in your possession on Baldpate mountain—$200,000."

"A mere trifle," remarked Magee sarcastically.

"So Cargan made Hayden see. Through long experience in these matters the mayor has become careless. He is the thing above the law, if not the law itself. He would have had no fear in accepting this money on Main street at midday. He had no fear when he came here and found he was being spied on."

"But Hayden—there was the difficulty that began the drama of Baldpate inn. Hayden had few scruples; but, as events tonight have well proved, Mr. Magee, he was a coward at heart. I do not know just why he lies on your bed upstairs at this moment a suicide. That is a matter between Kendrick and him and one which Kendrick himself has not yet fathomed. As I say, Hayden was afraid of being caught. Andy Rutter, manager of Baldpate inn for the last few summers, is in some arrival of the mayor."

"I was present," smiled Magee, "at the ceremony you mention."

"Yes? All these plans, as I have said, were known to Drayton. A few nights ago he came to me. He wanted to send an emissary to Baldpate—a man whom Cargan had never met—one who could perhaps keep up the pretense of being here for some other reason than a connection with the bribe. He asked me to undertake the mission, to see all I could and if possible to secure the package of money. This last seemed hardly likely. At any rate, I was to gather all the evidence I could. I hesitated."

"I had loudly proclaimed my championship of civic virtue, however, and here was a chance to serve Reuton. I acquiesced. The day I was to start up here poor Kendrick came back. He, too, had been a student of mine. A friend of both Drayton and Hayden. Seven years ago he and Hayden were running the Suburban together under Thornhill's direction. The two young men became mixed up in a rather shady business deal, which was more of Hayden's weaving than Kendrick's. Hayden came to Kendrick with the story that they were about to be found out and suggested that one assume the blame and go away. I am telling you all this in confidence as a friend of my friends, the Bentleys, and a young man whom I like and trust despite your momentary madness in the matter of yellow locks. We are all susceptible."

"Kendrick went. For seven years he stayed away in an impossible tropic town, believing himself sought by the law, for so Hayden wrote him. Not long ago he discovered that the matter in which he and Hayden had offended had never been disclosed after all. He hurried back to the states. You can imagine his bitterness. He had been engaged to Myra Thornhill, and the fact that Hayden was also in love with her may have had something to do with his treachery to his friend."

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

Says England Is Ready to Deliver Blow In War.

London, Jan. 25.—David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, declared in an interview that England is preparing to deliver a blow that must be felt by Germany. He called attention to the organization of one of the world's greatest armies by England, in addition to her already overpowering fleet. England, he said, has undergone an industrial reorganization as well.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'santene' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santene tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

The Constipation Curse

Constipation—clogged bowels cause pain and sickness; 95 per cent of our ills, say the authorities. Santene Laxatives bring quick relief. All vegetables—contain no calomel. Ten doses for a dime at any druggist. Physician's sample free, upon request, if you mention this advertisement. The Santene Remedies Co., Inc., 800 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

FIVE INJURED WHEN NEW BUILDING FALLS

One May Die; Workmen Hurlled Through Two Floors.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 25.—Five men were injured, one probably fatally, when the concrete roof of the new police station at Third and Walnut streets collapsed, precipitating the men at work fifty feet to the first floor of the building. Rescuers summoned from the police and fire headquarters across the street assisted in freeing the injured from the mass of debris.

The injured are Berry Davidson, foreman, crushed about the head, may die; Gus Kanzler, general contractor for the building, cut on throat and arm fractured; Ed Euler, laborer, legs crushed; Jacob Strupp, cut about head and shoulders.

After an inspection of the debris Building Inspector Edward Kerth asserted that the accident resulted from the buckling of a form in the concrete roof. The falling of the roof caused the collapse of the second and third floors. Kerth said he had inspected the building and found the bracing in good condition.

The collapse of the building came without warning. William Ryan, a concrete finisher, said he felt the roof give way and as he fell with the mass he threw his arms into the air, catching hold of a steel beam. From there he drew himself to the top of the brick wall nearby. Gus Huck also at work on the roof, caught at a falling beam as he fell with the debris. Wire at the end of the beam caught and he was swung toward a window.

He caught at it and later climbed down. Ed Macke and John Strupp, laborers, fell the entire distance of fifty feet and escaped without injury. Among the more seriously injured was Ed Euler, who was found buried under a mass of concrete and timbers. Saws were employed to free him of the wreckage.

Indorsed by the Professor.

Before President Angell of the University of Michigan had attained to his high position a young hopeful entering college was recommended to his consideration.

"Try the boy out, professor; criticize him and tell us both what you think," the parents said.

To facilitate acquaintance the professor took the boy for a walk. After ten minutes' silence the youth ventured, "Fine day, professor."

"Yes," with a faraway look.

Ten minutes more and the young man, squirming all the time, ventured, "This is a pleasant walk, professor."

"Yes."

For another ten minutes the matriculate boiled to his bones and then blurted out that he thought they might have rained.

"Yes." And this time the professor went on: "Young man, you have been walking together for half an hour, and you have said nothing which was not commonplace and stupid."

"True," answered the boy, his wrath passing his modesty, "and you indorsed every word I said."

Then they laughingly shook hands, and word went home from the professor that the boy was all right and that they were great friends.

MRS. ANNA HELMBRECHT PASSES TO HER REWARD

Death Occurred Monday Night, Following Attack of the Grip and Erysipelas.

Mrs. Anna Helmbrecht, wife of Charles Helmbrecht, died Monday night at her home on West Oak street following a short illness. A week ago she had an attack of the grip and later erysipelas developed and on account of her weakened condition she was unable to overcome the disease.

Anna Shade was born in Jackson county, July 21, 1875 and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shade. She was a devoted and active member of the German Lutheran church and was a good mother and friend, ever faithful to her home duties.

Besides the parents and husband, Charles Helmbrecht, eight children survive. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Henry Mascher and Mrs. Clyde McGowan, and four brothers, Louis Shade, of St. Louis, Martin, and Walter, of this city, and Carl Shade, of Indianapolis.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the residence and 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church conducted by the Rev. E. H. Eggers. Burial at the Lutheran cemetery.

Frank Hopkins Dead.

Frank Hopkins, aged eighty-three years, died Monday at his home in Washington county. He was the father of William C. Hopkins, of this city. Mr. Hopkins went to Washington county today to attend the funeral of his father which will be held Wednesday. The deceased is survived by a widow and seven children.

Mrs. Bothwell's Funeral.

The remains of Mrs. Albert Bothwell, formerly of this city, were shipped to Mitchell Monday afternoon and the funeral was held there this afternoon at the Methodist church. Mrs. Bothwell died Friday at her home in Santa Fe, New Mexico, of pneumonia. Besides her husband, three small children survive. Burial at the Mitchell cemetery.

Women of Sedentary Habits:

Women who get but little exercise are likely to be troubled with constipation and indigestion and will find Chamberlain's Tablets highly beneficial. Not so good as a three or four mile walk every day, but very much better than to allow the bowels to remain in a constipated condition. They are easy and pleasant to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

Advertisement.

Good Reason.

At Christmas the children of a certain English school tried to collect money by singing carols and snatches of hymns. Many complaints had reached the rector's ears of bands of youngsters scampering through the first verse of "While Shepherds Watched" and then violently ringing the doorbell. So he instituted inquiries on the next occasion he visited the school. "Why is it," he asked, "that instead of singing the hymn in a reverent way you scamper through one verse and then ring the bell?" Silence reigned for a short time. Then a shrill voice from a small boy at the back of the room was heard in explanation. "Please, sir, it's 'cause they always lets the dog loose at the second verse."

The Gist of It.

"Last December I had a very severe cold and was nearly down sick in bed. I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a very few days until I was completely restored to health," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. If you would know the value of this remedy, ask any one who has used it. Obtainable everywhere.
